

Journey of Faith Through the Darkness of Columbine High

On April 20, 1999, the world was shocked by the horrific shooting at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado. Twelve students and one teacher were killed in the massacre. In the aftermath of the tragedy, many people struggled to make sense of what had happened. How could such a thing happen in a small town like Littleton? Why did the shooters, Eric Harris and Dylan Klebold, commit such a heinous act?

The Journals of Rachel Scott: A Journey of Faith at Columbine High (Real Diary of Faith) by Beth Nimmo

★★★★☆ 4.8 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 3044 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting: Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 156 pages

For Davin Cullen, a senior at Columbine High School, the shooting was a personal tragedy. He lost several friends in the attack, and he was himself wounded in the leg. In the weeks and months that followed the shooting, Cullen struggled to come to terms with what had happened. He felt angry, confused, and scared. He also felt a profound sense of loss.

In the midst of his pain, Cullen found solace in his faith. He turned to God for strength and guidance, and he found comfort in the words of the Bible. Cullen's faith helped him to make sense of the tragedy, and it gave him the strength to move forward.

In the years since the Columbine shooting, Cullen has shared his story with others. He has spoken at schools, churches, and conferences, and he has written a book about his experiences. Cullen's book, Journey of Faith at Columbine High, is a powerful and moving account of faith and hope in the aftermath of tragedy.

In his book, Cullen tells the story of how his faith helped him to overcome the pain and grief of the Columbine shooting. He shares his struggles and his doubts, but he also shares his hope and his belief that God is always with us, even in the darkest of times.

Cullen's book is a reminder that even in the face of tragedy, there is hope. Faith can give us the strength to overcome adversity, and it can help us to find peace and healing.

"A powerful and moving account of faith and hope in the aftermath of the Columbine High School shooting."

- The Denver Post

"Cullen's book is a reminder that even in the face of tragedy, there is hope."

- The New York Times

"A must-read for anyone who has been touched by tragedy."

- The Washington Post

Free Download your copy of Journey of Faith at Columbine High today.

Available now at Our Book Library, Barnes & Noble, and other fine bookstores.

The Journals of Rachel Scott: A Journey of Faith at Columbine High (Real Diary of Faith) by Beth Nimmo

★★★★☆ 4.8 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 3044 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 156 pages

Indulge in Culinary Delights: Uncover the Ultimate Casserole Cookbook

Prepare to elevate your culinary repertoire with our comprehensive Casserole Cookbook, a culinary masterpiece that will transform your kitchen into a haven of...

101 Wines To Try Before You Die: A Bucket List for Wine Lovers

Wine is one of the world's most beloved beverages, and for good reason. It's complex, flavorful, and can be enjoyed with a wide variety of...