At first, they were scared. But then they realized that chicken pox could be kind of fun. They could stay home from school, play video games, and eat all the junk food they wanted.

But then, things started to get out of hand. The kids started to get really sick. They had fevers, headaches, and stomachaches. Some of them even had to go to the hospital.

The parents were starting to panic. They didn't know what to do. They called the doctor, but he just told them to let the virus run its course.

Finally, the kids started to get better. The spots started to fade, the fever went away, and the stomachaches stopped.

The kids were so happy to be feeling better. They couldn't wait to go back to school and see their friends again.

But when they did go back to school, they were in for a surprise. All of their friends had chicken pox too!

The kids all laughed and hugged each other. They were so glad that they had all gone through the chicken pox panic together.

The Chicken Pox Panic Cul-de-Sac Kids is a hilarious and heartwarming adventure about a group of kids who learn that even the scariest things can be fun when you have your friends by your side.

Perfect for kids ages 6-8, this book is sure to become a favorite.
